

Ruth Ann stopped receiving Messages to share from the Blessed Virgin Mary on January 25, 1995. On February 23, 1995, Jesus also stopped giving Messages to share. Since that time both Jesus and Mary have requested that we begin to reread the Messages already given and to reflect on them. But most of all, that we begin to live the Messages that have been given.

Message of Feb. 13, 1993, from Our Lord Jesus

Ruth Ann: Jesus, would you repeat what You told me earlier this morning when I asked You why do I have to do these things, why not someone else to give these talks? I am not even a good person.

Jesus: Yes, little one, I will repeat what I have said. I need you, little one, I need someone such as you to give witness to My other children who have no clue as to what I can do in their lives. You have seen, and heard, and been witness to My many miracles. Unless one has experience firsthand the works of God, it is difficult to give testimony. You have seen and felt the power of God in your life and in the lives of others.

Ruth Ann: But why must I witness to children? They have religion teachers.

Jesus: You too, had a religion teacher, but would you not like to have heard someone tell you that God is a God of love and mercy? Would it not have made your life more simple if someone had said to you, God knows you are a sinner, but He still loves you? Tell Him how much you love Him for all He has done for you, tell Him you are sorry for your sins and you will try to do better. All will be forgotten and washed away. The gift of confession is a special gift to His Catholic children. The priest is Me. He has the power to wash you white as snow, as clean as a newborn baby. What a gift from God!

The Eucharist too, is a special gift and miracle made available to all My children, daily, on this earth. Children, I am alive and walking among you. Do not despair of the darkness on the earth. I have sent you children who are of light, children who will bear witness to the works I am doing in all the lives of My children who have the faith and believe. See what I am doing, little one? I am sending you out, just as I have sent Peter, James, and John, and all the other apostles. You are one of them, little one. You are a chosen one of God. See why you must go? I can send no one else.

Ruth Ann: But Lord, if I would refuse, You would come up with someone else. You are God. I am not that important.

Jesus: Little one, this is true. I am God and can do all things, but you must remember, God has a divine plan. For it to unfold, all things must fall into place. It is time for more of the puzzle to become known to you. That means, little one, that certain other lives must be touched so that more of what is to happen can fall into place, just as placing the right piece of a puzzle in just the right place is vital for the whole picture to be clear. You have heard over and over, from Me, My Mother, and the Holy Spirit, 'It is time.' You did not know what that meant. Now, you will begin to realize as all things begin to move more quickly.

My Mother has said She will enlighten your priest as the need would arise. She is doing so. Next, it will be your Archbishop, Daniel. He too, will be made aware and will be receptive. All of these events are important, so you, My little one, will be able to do all the work that I am going to put before you.

Ruth Ann: Jesus, I feel You overestimate me. I am a lowly sinner.

Jesus: Little one, all My children are lowly sinners. If you were all holy, there would be no need of Me, your Jesus. There would have been no need of My death on the cross. Remember, I have died for your sins, not others' sins. I have died for your sins. I have known all your weaknesses, and have known you would succumb to the temptations of the evil one. I knew this of all My children. You have been forgiven for all your sins, even those you have not committed this day, but will do so before the day has past. I am the God of yesterday, today, and forever. I Am Who Am. These are words you do not understand, little one, but you will.

It is your faith, little one, your faith. It far outshines the brightest star in the universe. Your humility is a beautiful gift placed before the Throne of God, and the more you feel unworthy, the more God wishes to use you. The more you feel the need to hide, the more God wishes to place you before all His children to shout, "See God's children, see what I am doing for the very least among you? If I will do it for her, the very least, then I will do it for you." Do you see what I am doing in your life? Do you see the magnitude of the task before you?

Ruth Ann: Yes Lord, it humbles me that You would use me in this way.

Jesus: Little one, you will be traveling to places you have never seen before, talking before people you have never dreamed of witnessing to, and praying over the most helpless and needy of all My children. The magnitude of what you will be doing has not yet occurred to you, but it has to many around you. You are an apostle of the new times, and the end of the old. You are to bring good news to My children. Your grandmother had spoken of wanting to witness to God's children, and you were concerned about the fact that it would have embarrassed you. You will reach a point in your life, little one, when you will live to witness to My good works. The more pain and suffering you see in the world, the more you will want to help Me with My work here on earth. You are My body here on the earth. You are My eyes, ears, hands, feet, and most of all, My love and peace. As you touch and bless others in My name, I will be there with you. It will be as though I have touched them because you are being used by Me. You will perform many, many miracles of the flesh. But the most beautiful, little one, will be the healings of the spirit.

I wish to thank you for being obedient and listening even though you do not understand always what is being said to you. Continue to be obedient. This is a special gift, your locutions. It will be a mixed blessing to you and your family, because those on the earth do not understand. I am with you, and so is My Mother, and now you have someone else to help. She has said to you, "We will help each other." She will pray with and for you, and you can tend to her needs here on the earth. You had no idea how prophetic her words were.

Now I know you must be on your way. Go to love and serve your God. Do not force your prayer, but do you not feel like you would like to spend some time reading My word?

Ruth Ann: Yes Lord, thank You for this hunger. I love You.

Jesus: I love you and give you My best blessing and peace.

Ruth Ann: I feel it Lord, already.

Message of March 3, 1994, from Our Lord Jesus

Ruth Ann: Lord, I'm tired but I have this need to speak with You.

Jesus: Little one, that desire has been placed there by Me.

Ruth Ann: What do You wish to say?

Jesus: Little one, your Jesus wishes to thank you for putting the feelings of others before yourself. As you do for the very least of My children, you do unto Me. That is what I mean by ministering to My people. Sometimes it will be a listening ear when they feel they have no one to talk to about what has gone on in their life. Sometimes it will be prayer, sharing My words through the messages from Me or My Mother. Sometimes it will be through your talks. Child, the very fact that you are listening and being obedient is of great assistance to Me and My work here on the earth. I have told you before, when I walked on the earth, I performed many miracles. You, My child, will do even greater things.

Ruth Ann: Lord, how can this be possible? You are God. I can think of nothing greater than receiving the Eucharist or being absolved of my sins. I can do neither. I am not a priest, and I feel so inadequate to be of help to Your people. I feel their pain and my heart aches for them, but I can't absolve them from their sins, or free them from their pain.

Jesus: Little one, you do not have the gifts of a priest, this is true, but in listening, sharing, and praying with My children, you are bringing them back to Me. For those who already are with Me, you are strengthening them with your prayer, honesty, and humility. Little one, your peace is transferred to My children. This peace can only come from Me. Little one, you still do not understand just how important it is for Me to have you as a willing instrument; that you allow Me to use you here on the earth to minister to My people, is a special blessing to Me. Many would like your gift child, but would not like to give up all you have given up in order to be used in such a way.

Ruth Ann: Lord, You know I have, and continue to have, difficulty with all that I do for You. Please don't make me out to be something that I am not. I have faults and struggle through life just like all Your children who come to me seeking prayer and peace.

Jesus: Your humility is beautiful to behold, little one. That makes you special to Me and to others.

Ruth Ann: Could we please change the subject, Lord. I love You and wish to please You, You know that.

Jesus: Child, I know your heart, so yes, I do know these things and more. Many of My children are brought back to Me through your obedience, little one. Many are finding a new love for Me and for My Mother. Some are having their faith renewed just by your example. Continue to do as you are doing. The graces and strength will be there for you as the need arises.

Ruth Ann: Lord, I have no doubt of that. I see Your miracles in my life and the lives of others continuously, and besides, all of this is out of my hands. I gave, and still give it all to You.

Jesus: That is why I am able to work through you, child. Your faith and trust is needed for Me to be able to do all I need to do for those brought into your life. Continue to do as I have asked, and touch the lives and hearts of all those around you. I will do the really difficult part. I will do the healings that are needed.

Ruth Ann: Yes, Lord. Just continue to strengthen me. Do You realize just how difficult it is for me to do? I know my faults, Lord. For You to have me be the center of attention in prayer, or speaking with Your children, is so humiliating and embarrassing for me. I know many times I am praying with people who are so very holy, Lord. Please help me to do all You ask of me, so that I don't feel like a lamb being led to slaughter each time I do these things.

Jesus: Child, I have told you that this is all part of the dying of self. You would not have been asked to do such as this if you had found it to be easy. In your smallness, God can use you in a big way. If you were not humble, and did not recognize your many weaknesses, you would not be able to help those around you. It is through your being imperfect, and recognizing that fact, God has been able to change your heart in many ways. You will continue to be molded and formed into the likeness of God as you continue to minister to My people.

The more you do, the more you will grow, and the more will be asked of you. God has His hands upon you and is watching all that you do. He is not disappointed, child, He is pleased, and so are those that surround Him. Continue on in this journey set before you. God is with you and will minister to you, as you minister to His children. Now go in My peace, little one. Know I am with you as you do the will of My Father.

Ruth Ann: Thank You, Lord. I cannot ask for more than that. I love You and Your Mother.

Message of May 23, 1994, from Our Lord Jesus

Jesus: Prayer brings about change, little one. My Mother continues to touch the hearts of many and draw them to this special place of peace and prayer. She is here, just waiting to bestow graces and blessings in abundance. The Holy Spirit is making Himself known also in this special place. This is holy ground, little one. It is holy because God has chosen it to be so. Know all who come here are being brought here for a special reason. This is not just a random call. Each person who comes has been picked by My Mother.

She is calling together Her army of prayer warriors to fight a great spiritual battle. The time is now for Her children to fight this battle of good against evil. You can see the need in your families, your churches, your schools, your country, and the entire world. The evil one continues to draw the weak away from God and into the abyss of Hell. Pray, dear child, and encourage others to pray. This is an important battle and one that can be won by those truly driven to do the will of God.

Be not afraid, little one. Your ministry is to grow. God has a plan, a perfect plan. All things will fall into place when the time is right. Through your gifts, many hearts and lives are being touched. You continue to be amazed at the people being brought here and their kindness to you. Child, accept their kindness.

Ruth Ann: But Lord, I'm basically a simple country girl. We barely had the essentials when I was growing up. I never really realized I was poor until I went to school and saw that others had much more than I had. Even that doesn't really matter.

Jesus: Do not allow your pride to keep you from letting others experience the joy of giving.

Ruth Ann: I just don't want my reward here, Lord. I prefer it in the next life, and as difficult as all this is for me, I'm afraid I'm not heaping up a whole lot of graces for the great beyond. My will continues to fight against your will. I am so sorry that this is true, but You know this already, so I'm not revealing anything that's a surprise. All those who read my messages are aware of my sins. My soul is laid bare. I'm ashamed so many people know these horrible faults that I have. I should be grateful for everything You have asked me to do, and I continue to fight every inch of the way.

Jesus: Little one, you feel inadequate and lowly. You do not feel I have picked the right person for the job that has been prepared just for you. Little one, you are not the first nor will you be the last who feels this way. It is in your inadequacy that you do so much good. It is in your humbleness that you continue to touch lives and hearts. It is in your unwillingness that hearts are broken open. Why? Because My children who are made aware of the messages and hear your talks see the purity of heart. They do not see arrogance, pride, nor haughtiness. They see a genuine person struggling to do what is good and right, what is just, what is the will of God. They, too, see a part of themselves in you. You love Me, you love My Mother, and now, you love all of God's children.

Ruth Ann: For someone who preferred animals over people, You've brought me a long way, Lord. I would never have thought that possible.

Jesus: All things are possible with God. All you have to do, little one, is say 'yes', and keep yourself open to all God has in store for you to do. You are being prepared gradually for what is to come. You know in your heart all the things you have been told are to come about. Continue to receive the Eucharist daily, little one. This will provide you with strength to face what lies ahead. All things will fall into place when the time is right. I will come to you and ask you to carry My cross. This can mean many things. You know in your heart, you will accept any cross that God wishes to rest upon your shoulders.

Ruth Ann: Yes, Lord. I'd just like to be as normal as possible, for as long as possible; 'normal' in the sense of not being sinful, Lord.

Jesus: Little one, all of My children are sinners. If they weren't, there would have been no need for My death on the cross. There would be no need for the prayers and sacrifices of others today to bring about the end of evil. Just know, little one, God loves you. My Mother loves you. Continue to do all you can to help bring about the end to the spiritual battle of good against evil. Continue to pray and touch the lives and hearts of those who are brought to you to be touched and in turn go out and touch others. Continue to be accepting of all those who seek to be of help to you in any way. It will bless them in great abundance and will teach you to be accepting and more humble.

Ruth Ann: I would rather give than receive, Lord. Receiving is embarrassing for me.

Jesus: You must learn to accept the love and generosity of others so they, too, can feel this special warmth and joy of giving.

Ruth Ann: Yes, Lord.

Jesus: Know I am with you throughout the entire day. I love you, little one. Go in My peace.

Ruth Ann: Thank You, Lord. I love You.

Message of June 17, 1993, from Our Lord Jesus

Ruth Ann: Lord, again I come to You to ask for Your forgiveness. You know, I really don't know why God just doesn't take my life away from me. Why in the world He puts up with my anger, distrust, all the negative feelings that overpower me at times. I'm really not worthy of anything He wants me to do, Lord.

Jesus: Child, do you really believe anyone is? No one is worthy, not on their own merits. God makes them worthy. You were so concerned about so many things, little one. Your Jesus has been here waiting and longing for you to give yourself over to Him. You are fighting the will of God, little one, instead of taking it all one day at a time as I have asked of you. You continue to look ahead and try to outguess God. You will be told only that which you need to know, and even that will be only when you need to know it. Child, you don't need to think for one minute that because you have spoken My words, that you have brought about the statue, the building, and the prayer, that is being said here. You child, are nothing without Me. All of My children are nothing without Me. No one can do anything without My assistance. Those who are wealthy, healthy, important, it was not given to them because they have earned it. It was given to them because I have desired it to be so. Some will use My gifts wisely and some will misuse these gifts of Mine. It is like a test. Life is not fair on the earth. It is not meant to be. Those who have little, I love for what they do with what they have, just as those who are wealthy will be judged accordingly.

Little one, you are having a difficult time adjusting to all that is happening around you, but it need not be so. Think of this respite as a time to become better acquainted with Me, your Jesus. Teaching has become an extremely stressful job. The demands are overwhelming at times. Society as a whole has forfeited the position of a parent and primary caregiver of soul and mind away to anyone who will care for the child. The parents of today are too busy earning money for things. They care not for their children. They expect teachers to teach, police, love, feed, and nurture the little ones. At the same time, they are saying, "Don't discipline my child. Don't teach my child values." What an impossible task for those who love Me and wish to be of help to those little ones placed in their care. Now, you will be free of this burden, at least in the classroom, but you will not be free of the knowledge that much prayer and sacrifice are needed for the families of today. The family is no longer a strong center of stability and faith as it once was. It is broken and destroyed by greed and selfishness. Now man is reaping the benefits of his many mistakes. Look at the crime rate. Watch the news. Read the newspaper. Not a day passes without some horrible atrocity happening somewhere. It is getting closer and closer to home, little one. Much prayer is needed by all of My children who have been made aware of the need.

Ruth Ann: Lord, I know much prayer is needed, but the little I can do cannot be so important that You would take so much time with me.

Jesus: I love all My children. I am patient, loving, and kind. I in turn expect the same of My children for one another. Be all of these things to each other. Be patient, loving, and kind. Follow My example in all you do, little one. You still don't understand, do you? The importance of what you are doing for Me still has not fully become a part of you. In time it will. You wish to deny the importance of your mission, because you know yourself as you are. You feel unworthy and wretched. All this is so, little one, but God can do all things. Is this not so? He can take your brokenness and make of it whatever He desires. He desires to use you for much, little one. Your continued admittance to your brokenness only makes you more usable.

Ruth Ann: Why do You even fool with me, Lord? There are those who would desire to do all that You would have me do, and do it joyfully and without reservation. There are those who would gladly travel, and pray, and speak on Your behalf, and pray with and ask for healings for all those who need them. I know this for a fact, Lord.

Jesus: But you don't know God's plan. That is the difference. You don't know the hearts and minds of others. That too, is a hindrance to the individuals you are thinking of. The children God chooses to do His work have to be of the heart and mind of Jesus. They have to be bent, molded, and broken, in some cases, and rebuilt from the bottom up, and from the inside out. This can only be done with those children who recognize their unworthiness. Great humility and love for God and for My Mother is needed. You have both, child. You have the great love and the humility.

Ruth Ann: If You say so, Lord. My anger is gone, and so are all the other feelings I had yesterday.

Jesus: Yes, it is because you have given Me all those feelings you could no longer deal with. When you gave these things to Me, did you not feel peace?

Ruth Ann: Yes, Lord.

Then You gave me an anointing of the Holy Spirit. I felt cleansed. Prayer group was extra special too. Thank You for all the confirmations for the message from Your Mother. Everything fit together just as though we had all sat down together and planned the readings, sharings, and messages.

Jesus: See what God can do when His children listen. You are like a stubborn little child who says, "No I'm not doing that," and yet you love God so much that you can not walk away. I know your heart. Do you not realize that this only endears you to Me even more? Which child would you prefer, little one, one who tells you 'yes' and then walks away and does what he wishes or would you prefer the one who says 'no, I can't' and walks forward and continues to do My will, even though the cost is great?

Ruth Ann: I see what You mean Lord, but You are the One that made me. I am not in control of my heart. You are right in saying all these things, Lord, but I can't walk away because I know I am needed and there would be much guilt.

Jesus: Child, this is true, but I am God. I could choose another if you chose to walk away. You say you cannot but you have a free will. Others have been called but few are chosen. It is because God knows the hearts, minds, and souls of all those He has chosen. You say you continue on out of guilt, some yes, but child I know your heart. Remember, I am God. I know how much love you have for Me, My Mother, and your fellowman. You can say as you wish, little one, but I know your heart. I thank you for this love, little one. It fans the flame of My heart when others would have the flame smothered, or even worse, ignored.

Ruth Ann: Again, Lord, You give me too much credit.

Jesus: None more than you deserve, little one. Again, I love you, little one.

Ruth Ann: I love You, Lord. Forgive me for being such a pain. I am so sorry.

Jesus: You have forgotten I know your heart. All is forgiven and forgotten.

Message of Nov. 11, 1994, from Our Lord Jesus

Ruth Ann: Lord, will I ever experience joy and peace in serving You?

Jesus: Little one, it will come. There are changes coming about in your life that could not have come even weeks, or months ago. You continue to grow and accept the cross put before you. You wish to please Me, and you wish to do My will. You wish to be of help to My children. Your heart is full of love for Me. With all of these things in place, the rest will come. Of course, you have struggled. This is to be expected. You have been attached to many of the things of the world, but gradually you have been pulled away from each of those things that might keep you from giving all to Me. You have finally been able to say to Me, "Everything I have and possess are Yours: my family, my home, my job, my animals, my life, all are Yours." When one of My children can say this to Me and truly mean it, I can truly use them to benefit the souls of many.

Ruth Ann: Lord, I am no one special, and I still have moments when I struggle with what You want for me. It's just as one person said to one of my daughters, 'Who does she think she is, your mother, that God would pick her out of millions of people to talk to? Does she really believe that He is speaking with her?'

Jesus: How sad, little one. I would speak to that person if she would only take the time to listen. I know these words being spoken by others hurt you, and hurt your family, but those who suffer for My sake, will be rewarded accordingly. For the many who laugh and criticize you behind your back, and to your face, there will be those who believe and truly understand that God can work in the lives of His children in any way He chooses. Know in your heart, little one, that yours is the Kingdom of God, because you have said 'yes'.

Ruth Ann: I keep waiting to become one who works for you in joy, Lord. I said earlier that I don't feel peace in what I am doing; that really isn't so, when I think about it. When I am praying for Your people, I do feel peace and joy. I even find myself looking forward to praying with those who come seeking prayer. I never thought I'd be able to say that, Lord. I really don't even mind sharing and witnessing anymore. It's just that I don't like being the focal point of anything. I've never liked being in front of a group, but the more I give of myself, the more I find I want to give.

Jesus: As you continue to be molded and prepared for what I would have you do, the joy will come. Right now, you are feeling acceptance with these things you have struggled with for so many months. You have come a long way, child. Joy and the burning desire to serve Me were felt in the beginning of your conversion. As your burdens became heavier and heavier, you experienced dread, fear, and frustration. Doubts continue to plague and eat at you. Now you are accepting those things I would have you do. You don't really understand why you have been chosen, because you know your sinfulness. As you grow in your love for Me, you will even feel less worthy. But those who are truly caring and humble, can be used in mighty ways. So these are important qualities that God wishes to see come about in those who serve Him.

You are concerned about the article and picture in your local paper, about the farm and the prayer group that has developed, as a desire of My Mother. You have been told God would take care of everything. Your children have handled everything well, have they not? I have provided them with the graces to do so. All are proud of your stepping out in faith to answer God's call. They too, have been brought along. This did not happen overnight. Each one has had crosses to bear, in order to prepare you for the ultimate cross. My coming to you will be the ultimate cross. But know, that God in His way, has prepared each one of you. Be not afraid. God's will be done.

Ruth Ann: Lord, I know You will tend to all things.
